

Jennifer Magaña Crosco

Jennifer (she/her) is the Volunteer Program Coordinator at the City of Sacramento Front Street Animal Shelter. She has over 7 years of Animal welfare experience both in private non-profit and municipal shelter. She began her Animal Welfare experience as a volunteer at the Sacramento SPCA, where she quickly realized the impact of community outreach in the Sacramento region. She has been a part of the Front Street Animal Shelter for over 5 years as a Customer Service Representative focusing on Return-to home programs, and now the new Volunteer Coordinator as of 2022. As any shelter position, Jennifer wears many hats from planning community events, to serving on large scale fundraiser committees and serving on the Latino Advisory Committee in the City of Sacramento for District 8. Jennifer is bilingual in Spanish and is currently working developing the first Spanish volunteer orientation for the Front Street Animal Shelter. Being born as a first generation American, Jennifer see's the importance of diversity and inclusivity in shelters across California and has a passion to expand all shelter resources to every member in the community. Jennifer received the Animal Shelter Management Certificate through The University of The Pacific in 2021. As a first-time mom to a 5-month-old baby girl, Jennifer enjoys rediscovering all her favorite places through the lens of her daughter, Sol. Jennifer lives in the City of Sacramento with her partner, four dogs and one cat who absolutely love the new baby addition!
