

Meghan Oliver

Meghan has worked in animal welfare for over 15 years with experience in a variety of areas including animal behavior, veterinary care, animal care, and customer service. She started as a part-time customer care representative at the Placer SPCA. A year later she joined the Animal Care team to ensure the animal's fundamental needs were met. From there she became the lead animal care technician and was later promoted to Behavior Coordinator. She then became Behavior Supervisor, and this last year was promoted to Operations Manager of Animal Care.

Meghan's passion for animals started at a young age when her parents taught her the joy and value animals bring to our lives. With her trusted pit bull, Sierra, by her side, Meghan grew up making friends with all the neighborhood dogs and cats. Meghan currently lives with her two lovable dogs Molly a 15-year-old pit bull and Ozzie a 5-year-old lab.

After a few months working at the Placer SPCA, Meghan knew this was what she wanted to do, helping those animals that need a temporary home and special care. Her professional goal is to become an operational director at an animal shelter and looks forward to learning with her fellow students in this program.
