

Sean McGinnis

Sean has over a decade of animal welfare experience including caregiving, adoptions, intake, customer service, and leadership.

Sean started his career by working as a Kennel Attendant at a small organization that focused on rescuing deaf dogs from local shelters. Sean later joined Best Friends Animal Society and their NKLA initiative where he spent time as a Pet Caregiver before moving into the adoption department. After several years, Sean relocated to Northern California where he worked as the Adoption Supervisor for Tony La Russa's Animal Rescue Foundation (ARF). Sean has held several positions at ARF, including his current role as the Shelter Manager. Here he oversees the intake of dogs and cats from shelter partners throughout California as well as the care and enrichment of the shelter's guests.
