

JULIANNA TETLOW

San Diego Humane Society

Director of Government Relations

Julianna Tetlow brings a wealth of public policy and political experience to San Diego Humane Society (SDHS). She worked tirelessly in the legislature for more than a decade, most notably as policy director for former Assembly Minority Leader Michael N. Villines and chief of staff to Assemblymember Linda Halderman, M.D. In addition to policy work, Julianna has managed numerous political campaigns. She developed and oversaw the execution of strategic campaign plans that included staff management, volunteer and donor cultivation and retention, and communicating to voters through mail, media and direct voter contact. Julianna moved to San Diego in 2013 where she took the helm of one of the local political parties as executive director. Her leadership resulted in one of the most successful election cycles in the party's recent history. Prior to joining the San Diego Humane Society family, Julianna served as director of outreach and policy advisor for San Diego City Councilmember Chris Cate and worked as a contract lobbyist with California Strategies serving many clients, including SDHS. As Director of Government Relations, Julianna has led successful negotiations for seven new municipal contracts, manages relationships with 14 contract cities as well as develops and implements San Diego Humane Society's policy and legislative goals. She also oversees the organization's Business Intelligence Unit. Julianna resides in Boise, ID with her husband Barrett and rescue dog Winnie.
