

Sage Lovelace

I have worked for Animal Services for 20 years. I started my career in San Diego as an office clerk and worked my way into the Shelter Attendant position. I then became a Shelter Attendant Supervisor. After 10 years, I moved to Bridgeport, CA, where I continued my career with Mono County Animal Services as a Shelter Attendant. I recently completed 10 years here with Mono County.

My goal is to become the Director for Mono County Animal Services, providing excellent service to the communities, as well as leadership and inspiration to the up-and-coming Shelter Attendants and Animal Control Officers. I hope to share the passion that I have and offer the best service for the animals in our care and the community.
