

Donell Randolph

Donell works for Oakland Animal Services as the Human Animal Support Services (HASS) Coordinator. He has worked for animal welfare for the past nine years which consisted of various avenues such as volunteer management, shelter behavioral assessments, animal coordination, and giving medical support for low income and homeless families. He was a part of the first cohort for CalAnimals' Emerging Leaders Program and now is helping to run the second session. Donell's next goal is to look for a director position at a city shelter.
